POPULATION REPORT

June 2011

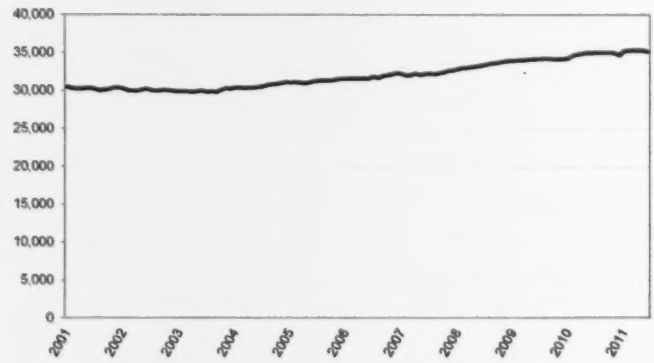
Highlights:

- In June 2011, the estimated population of Yukon was 35,175.
- The Whitehorse population of 26,711 comprised 75.9% of the total Yukon population.
- March 2011 had the highest population in Yukon's recent history[2] at 35,338.

Monthly Yukon Population Estimates

- Yukon's population was 33,796 at the start of 1997. It decreased steadily for five years and then held at around 30,000 in 2002 and 2003. In 2004 the population began to climb.
- In the first three months of 2011, Yukon's population increased to a record high of 35,338 in March[1] before dropping off slightly to 35,175 in June of this year.

Yukon Population, January 2001 to June 2011



Because the Health Care Update Survey has not been conducted since the spring of 2010, estimates for July 2010 and later are based on regression modelling. Thus, these numbers, while still comparable to the figures from previous years, have been derived using a different methodology than was used in earlier reports.

All figures in this publication were calculated by the Yukon Bureau of Statistics from data provided by Yukon Department of Health & Social Services.

[1]Accurate population estimates for the gold rush era are not available. However, the first Census population estimate for Yukon was in 1901 when the population was 27,219.

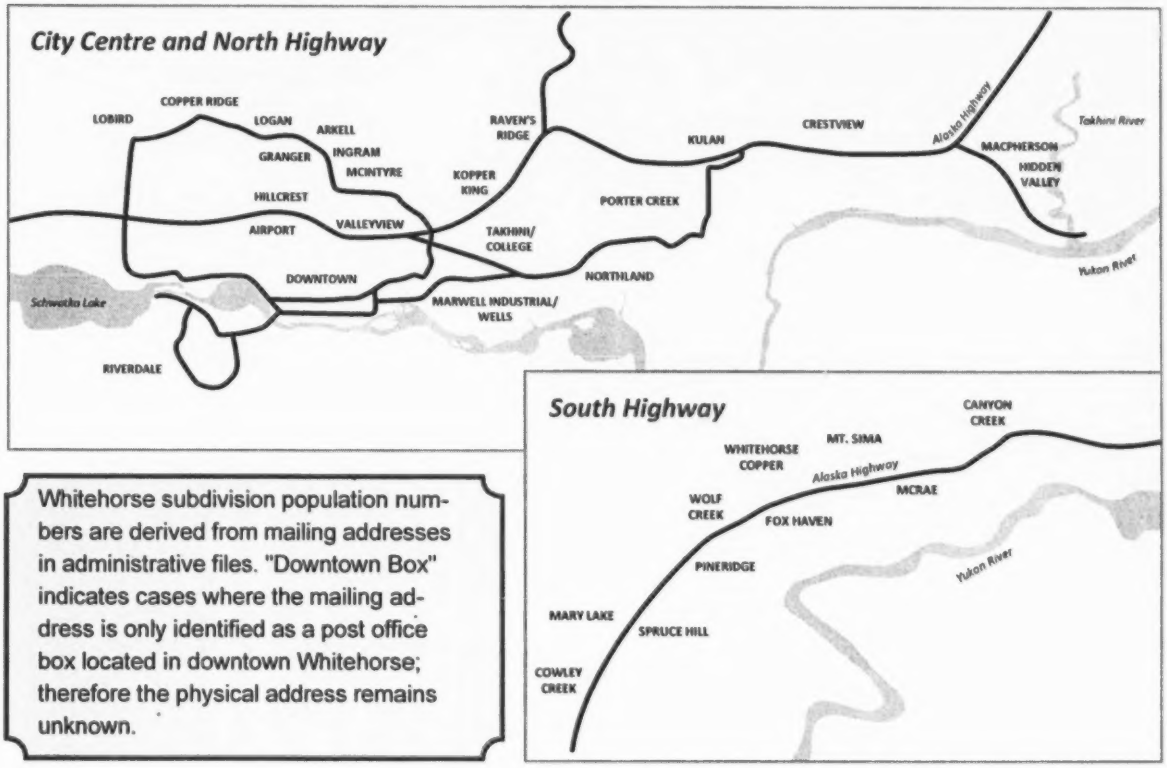
Population Changes in Yukon's Three Largest Communities

Between June 2010 and June 2011, the Whitehorse population increased by 295, or 1.1%. During the same time period, the Dawson City population decreased by 7, or 0.4%, and the Watson Lake population decreased by 53, or 3.4%.

Whitehorse Area Subdivision Populations



Whitehorse subdivision population numbers are derived from mailing addresses in administrative files. "Downtown Box" indicates cases where the mailing address is only identified as a post office box located in downtown Whitehorse; therefore the physical address remains unknown.

Historical Population Estimates

Yukon's annual average population increased by 4,574 people from a population of 30,273 in 2001 to 34,847 in 2010. This represents an annual average growth rate of 1.3%. However, this growth has not occurred evenly from year to year. Rather, it has ranged from a high of 3.4% between 2007 and 2008 to a low of -1.6% between 2000 and 2001.

Notes

The Yukon Bureau of Statistics produces population estimates twice a year. Official population estimates for months and years prior to June, 2010 were based on raw counts of Yukon Health Care Insurance Plan recipients, adjusted using the results of a biannual mail-out health care update survey that estimated the number of health insurance recipients who were no longer Yukon residents. Population estimates are now based on a model that combines raw counts of health care insurance plan recipients, health insurance claims, and motor vehicle registrations. The model is calibrated through a regression procedure conducted on official Yukon population estimates between January 2007 and June 2010.

Figures are sorted by postal codes and community codes. Users of this information should be aware that the community population includes not only the legally defined city limits, but also the population that lives in the immediately surrounding area.

It should also be noted these population estimates do not include approximately 200 RCMP and military personnel living in Yukon who do not subscribe to the Yukon Health Care Insurance Plan.
